Did you hear about the Diaper Drive?

For the month of June, St. Mary's CCW is collecting diapers for His Love Family Resources in Mio. Collection baskets are in the church and hall. Sizes larger than newborn are most often needed.

Our Travel Guide: There are two ways of traveling. One way is that you do everything for yourself. You plan it all out, obtain your ticket, look after your luggage, get your seat, ask others whether you have things right, and, if you are in a country where you have little knowledge of the language, you have often have an uneasy sense that perhaps you are wrong. Then there is another method of travel. You employ a Travel Agency, which creates your plan for you, obtains your tickets, sees to your comfort, gives you precise directions and instructions, and provides you, where necessary, with a guide and interpreter. Compare that to our Christian journey. Wouldn't life be better if we would let the Holy Spirit be our Travel Guide? We can be at rest knowing that He has our best interests in mind, that He has promised to never leave us or forsake us, and that He wants to help us with life's journey.

Timmy didn't want to put his money in the offering plate, so his mother decided to use some hurried creative reasoning with him. "You don't want that money," she whispered in his ear. "Quick! Drop it in the plate. It's tainted!" Horrified, the little boy obeyed. After a few seconds he whispered, "But, mommy, why was the money tainted? Was it dirty?" "Not really, dear," she replied. It's just that it 'taint yours, and it 'taint mine...it's God's."

St. Emily de Vialar

Anne Marguerite Adelaide Emily de Vialar was the eldest child and only daughter of Baron James Augustine de Vialar and his wife Antoinette. 'Emily' was born at Gaillac in Languedoc in 1797. At the age of fifteen she was removed from school in Paris to help her father, now a widower; but unhappily, differences arose between them because of Emily's refusal to consider a suitable marriage.

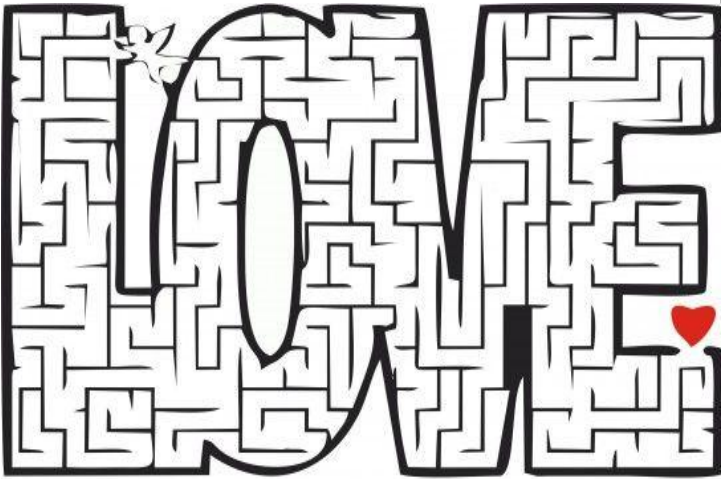

For fifteen years, Emily was the good angel of Gaillac, devoting herself to the care of children neglected by their parents and to helping the poor.

In 1832, her maternal grandfather died, leaving her a small fortune. She bought a large house at Gaillac and took possession of it. Others joined her and three months later, the archbishop authorized the Abbe to clothe twelve postulants with the religious habit. They called themselves the Congregation of Sisters of St. Joseph of the Apparition. Their work was to be the care of the needy, especially the sick, and the education of children. In 1835, she made her profession with seventeen other sisters, and received formal approval for the rule of the Congregation.

Emily, in the course of twenty-two years, saw her Congregation grow from one to some forty houses, many of which she had founded in person. The physical energy and achievements of St. Emily de Vialar are the more remarkable in that from her youth she was troubled by a hernia. From 1850 this became more and more serious, and it hastened her end, which came on August 24, 1856.

The burden of her last testament was to "Love one another". Her canonization took place in 1951; her feast is June 17.
